Course Description: This course aims to make you a more effective professional communicator, analytical thinker, and critical listener. Throughout the semester you will study the theories and principles of effective communication, practice applying these principles in various assignments, and critique the performances of other speakers. These assignments and exercises will develop your speaking abilities, organizational and preparation techniques, and the capacity to effectively appraise your audience and diverse backgrounds and ethically apply communication theory. By the end of the semester, you should be able to plan and prepare professional informative, persuasive, and other presentations.

Major Skill(s) Development:

1. Critical Thinking: Construct and articulate logical arguments to justify sound conclusions in a variety of speaking contexts.
2. Communication: Communicate and interpret ideas effectively through written, oral, and visual/technological means. Students will not only be able to demonstrate this skill in formal extemporaneous presentations, but also through their written evaluations of themselves and others.
3. Personal Responsibility: Defend a personal ethical position that incorporates: ethical decision making, proper and justified research to support the idea, compelling organization, and appropriate reasoning free of fallacies within their formal presentations. Students will also demonstrate their personal responsibility through classroom interactions and engagement/listening during others' presentations.
4. Comprehending a basic level of understanding about public speaking theory and the foundational models of communication.
5. Displaying and mastering content, structure, style, and delivery skills in the presentation of informative, persuasive, and invitational messages to effectively impact a given (and thoroughly analyzed) audience.

Textbook: Stephen E. Lucas, The Art of Public Speaking, 13th edition. New York: McGraw Hill, 2020.

Course Policies and Expectations

Description of Instructional Methods: Instruction will be student-centered and require the development of theoretical knowledge and the demonstration of practical competence in persuasion through a variety of instructional methods. The tools implemented include, but are not limited to, recorded lectures, textbook readings, supplementary readings, PowerPoints, online exams/quizzes, independent and guided research, individual and group presentations, and written documents.

Communication: The best way to reach me will be via email. You will receive group updates from me through Canvas – because that is the system that is available to us – but do not respond through Canvas messenger. During the work week (M-F 9:00am – 5:00pm), I will respond to emails within 48 hours. If you do not receive a response from me within this time frame, please send another message. Response times are subject to delay on the weekends and evenings.

On the other hand, I expect you to check your email and canvas messages. The only system I have for emailing you all at once is Canvas. Thus, it is your responsibility to keep track of updates made via the Canvas notification system.

Attendance/Participation: To be successful in this course, you will need to attend our in-person class sessions and participate regularly – zooming in will not be an option. You are allotted 3 “freebies” for which you can miss class for any reason. However, any activities done in-class on the day you are absent cannot be made-up. After you have missed 3 classes, you will be deducted half a letter grade for each additional absence.

Late Work & Make-up Assignments: As a rule of thumb, I do not accept late work. Outside of academia, you will be expected to complete your assigned work by the date it is required. Period. class will mirror that expectation. Of course, I do understand that life happens. If something comes up, please contact me before the assignment deadline to discuss your options. Late work and make-up assignments will be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

Technology Use: During each class period we will be doing a variety of activities that will require you to use a laptop or tablet to research, write, and present on a variety of topics related to persuasion. Though we will be using our technology regularly, it should be used for purposes related to the course. Egregious use of technology for alternative purposes – i.e. Netflix, text messaging, doom scrolling, etc.) will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

Classroom Etiquette: Some element of persuasion is present in almost every communication instance. Our discussions and class activities will bring us to some topics that may be controversial, uncomfortable, and/or difficult to discuss. It is my expectation that each of you be cordial and conscientious of your classmates throughout the semester. Any inappropriate and/or malicious behavior towards your classmates will not be tolerated.

Therefore, we enforce the Student Conduct and Discipline policy (Links to an external site.) in the Student Manual Of Operating Procedures (Section 8).

Student Standards of Academic Conduct

Disciplinary proceedings may be initiated against any student who engages in scholastic dishonesty, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. "Cheating" includes, but is not limited to: copying from another student's test paper; using, during a test, materials not authorized by the person giving the test; failure to comply with instructions given by the person administering the test; possession during a test of materials which are not authorized by the person giving the test, such as class notes or specifically designed "crib notes". The presence of textbooks constitutes a violation if they have been specifically prohibited by the person administering the test; using, buying, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in whole or part the contents of an unadministered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program; collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during a test or other assignment without authority; discussing the contents of an examination with another student who will take the examination; divulging the contents of an examination, for the purpose of preserving questions for use by another, when the instructors has designated that the examination is not to be removed from the examination room or not to be returned or to be kept by the student; substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for oneself to take a course, a test, or any course-related assignment; paying or offering money or other valuable thing to, or coercing another person to obtain an unadministered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program or information about an unadministered test, test key, home solution or computer program; falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other academic work offered for credit; taking, keeping, misplacing, or damaging the property of The University of Texas at Tyler, or of another, if the student knows or reasonably should know that an unfair academic advantage would be gained by such conduct; and misrepresenting facts, including providing false grades or resumes, for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit or injuring another student academically or financially.

“Plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to, the appropriation, buying, receiving as a gift, or obtaining by any means another’s work and the submission of it as one’s own academic work offered for credit. “Collusion” includes, but is not limited to, the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any section of the rules on scholastic dishonesty. All written work that is submitted will be subject to review by plagiarism software.

The UT-Tyler Writing Center

The Writing Center provides professional writing tutoring for all students in all disciplines. If you wish to use the Writing Center, you should plan for a minimum of two hour-long tutorials per assignment: the first to provide an initial consultation and drafting plan, and the second to follow up. Be prepared to take an active role in your learning, as you will be asked to discuss your work during your tutorial. While Writing Center tutors are happy to provide constructive criticism and teach effective writing techniques, under no circumstances will they fix, repair, or operate on your paper. Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies:

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated (September 3, 2021). Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract. The Census Date (September 3, 2021) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date).
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade).
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment.
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

Final Exam Policy:

Final examinations are administered as scheduled. If unusual circumstances require that special arrangements be made for an individual student or class, the dean of the appropriate college, after consultation with the faculty member involved, may authorize an exception to the schedule. Faculty members are required to maintain student final examination papers for a minimum of three months following the examination date.

Incomplete Grade Policy:

If a student, because of extenuating circumstances, is unable to complete all of the requirements for a course by the end of the semester, then the instructor may recommend an Incomplete (I) for the course. The "I" may be assigned in lieu of a grade only when all of the following conditions are met: (a) the student has been making satisfactory progress in the course; (b) the student is unable to complete all course work or final exam due to unusual circumstances that are beyond personal control and are acceptable to the instructor; and (c) the student presents these reasons prior to the time that the final grade roster is due. The semester credit hours for an Incomplete will not be used to calculate the grade point average for a student.

The student and the instructor must submit an Incomplete Form detailing the work required and the time by which the work must be completed to their respective department chair or college dean for approval. The time limit established must not exceed one year. Should the student fail to complete all of the work for the course within the time limit, then the instructor may assign zeros to the unfinished work, compute the course average for the student, and assign the appropriate grade. If a grade has not been assigned within one year, then the Incomplete will be changed to an F, or to NC if the course was originally taken under the CR/NC grading basis.

Grade Appeal Policy:

UT Tyler's Grade Appeal policy requires the completion of a Grade Appeal form for this action to take place. The grade appeal begins with the instructor of your course. If you do not agree with the decision of the instructor, you may then move your appeal to the department chair/school director for that course. If you are still dissatisfied with the decision of the chair/director, you may move the appeal to the Dean of the College offering that course who has the final decision. Grade appeals must be initiated within sixty (60) days from the date of receiving the final course grade. The Grade Appeal form is found on the Registrar's Form Library.

Withdrawing from Class:

Students you are allowed to withdraw (Links to an external site.) (drop) from this course through the University's Withdrawal Portal (Links to an external site.). Texas law prohibits students who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at other 2-year or 4-year Texas public colleges and universities. Make sure to consider the impact withdrawing from this class has on your academic progress as well as the financial implications.

We encourage you to consult your advisor(s) and financial aid for additional guidance.

CAUTION #1: Withdrawing before census day does not mean you get a full refund. Please see the Tuition and Fee Refund Schedule (Links to an external site.). CAUTION #2: All international students must check with the Office of International Programs (Links to an external site.) before withdrawing. All international students are required to enroll full-time for fall and spring terms.

Absence for Official University Events or Activities:

This course follows the practices related to approved absences as noted by the Student Manual of Operating Procedures (Sec. 1 -501 (Links to an external site.):

Absence for Religious Holidays:

Students who anticipate being absent from class due to a religious holiday are requested to inform the instructor by the second class meeting of the semester.

FERPA:

UT Tyler follows the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) as noted in University Policy 5.2.3 (Links to an external site.). The course instructor will follow all requirements in protecting your confidential information.

If you are a student who is a veteran, on active duty, in the reserves or National Guard, or a military spouse or dependent, please stay in contact with me if any aspect of your present or prior service or family situation makes it difficult for you to fulfill the requirements of a course or creates disruption in your academic progress.
