INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF HUMAN SOCIAL RELATIONSHIPS AND INSTITUTIONS.
AN EXCITING AND ILLUMINATING FIELD OF STUDY THAT ANALYZES AND EXPLAINS
IMPORTANT MATTERS IN OUR PERSONAL LIVES, OUR COMMUNITIES, AND THE WORLD.

MO/WE 12:20PM - 1:15PM
ROOM: CAS 257 (SECOND FLOOR)

INSTRUCTOR: DR. ALEKSANDRA V. CREGLER

As a Greek poet once said : "many are the wondrous things, and naught more wondrous than man".

Sociology's prime benefit is gaining a greater understanding of the complex and confusing yet charmingly simple nature of humans, and the societies in which we organize ourselves. This course will help you look more objectively at our society and other societies.

It directs attention to how the parts of society fit together and change, as well as makes us aware of the consequences of that social change.

By studying societal behavior, we can make comparisons, attempt to solve issues and gain a rational understanding of some of society's more frustrating habits.

By focusing on the external forces that affect attitudes, values, and behaviors, sociology helps us better understand ourselves and the motivations of others around us. While we are all creatures of the various groups, organizations, and governments in our environments, we are also their creators.

If you are the type of person who does not necessarily follow the crowds (but are fascinated by their behavior), the type who is truly interested in what is going on in the world, then Introduction to Sociology should interest you.

Perhaps it is this enigmatic character which leads students to enjoy this subject so much .

Dr. Aleksandra V. Cregler

In addition to the goal that "you will be thoroughly versed in the topics of sociology", there are a number of more specific learning outcomes the successful student will experience in this course:

- Students will demonstrate social awareness, knowledge, and skills in written, verbal, and behavioral activities.
- Students will be able to make rational and measured decisions in the interest of fairness, whereas a synthesis of group and independent projects provide students with skills of teamwork, self-dependence and autonomy.
- Students will analyze issues or phenomena using sociological theory.
- Students will be prepared for a lifetime of change by developing appreciation of diversity, love of learning, writing and study skills, and knowledge base about human behavior, social organization, culture, and social change.

MEET YOUR PROFESSOR

Hello!

My pronouns are she/her.

You may refer to me as Professor Cregler, or Dr. Cregler.

My preference is that you do not refer to me by my first name.

I am born and raised in Macedonia (Eastern Europe). Coming from a long line of educators, I have worked with upper-level governmental departments in my native country, including: The President, The Secretary of Education and Foreign Affairs, as well as many international diplomatic embassies and consulates.

I hold a Sociology degree, master's degree in Cultural Studies (Intercultural Communication), and a doctorate with specialization in Social Psychology - Cultural Semantics. I am a published author of two books, and I have a lot of applied experience in my field of interest(s).

Collaborating with many other international Universities (Princeton University, Harvard University, University of Bologna), the initial concern of my work is to adapt the theoretical knowledge to actual social situations, producing knowledge that is pragmatic. My current research interests revolve around education (authentic learning), identity formation, social problems affecting vulnerable groups, and studying how social interactions form social realities.

I am strongly dedicated to enriching the lives of students outside the classroom, attempting to inspire growth in my students by giving them tools to take into disciplines and into other domains of their life. Among these tools are a sense of curiosity, open-mindedness, and a thirst for knowledge.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM ME #1

PROFESSIONAL

What is a professor if they're not professional? All the professors you will meet at UT Tyler will treat you with respect. We understand that, even though you are students, you are adults. Classes are also constructed in a nondiscriminatory way that gives everyone an equal opportunity to learn and feel comfortable while taking the course.

You should never feel undermined. Being professional is in the job description at UT Tyler, and you can expect us to act like the professional professors we are.

REASONABLE

Your professor isn't going to be your best friend or your babysitter. We're here to teach and you're here to learn. Expect to be appropriately challenged. Our goal is to help prepare you for the "real world" and get you to the level you need to be at to do well in the future.

We understand you're still human and life can be unpredictable. The professors at UT Tyler do their best to work with each student, especially when it comes to unforeseen circumstances. While every professor handles a situation differently (and in ways that can seem harsh), we're not trying to run you out of college, and nothing will be given to you that you can't handle.

ORGANIZED

You can expect a syllabus to be given to you at the beginning of every course and feel confident that your college professor will make good use of your time.

FAIR

The professors at UT Tyler are required to treat every student equally. The same expectations are applied to everyone, and the grade you receive in a class is the grade you've earned. While the standards expected of their students varies by the professor, everyone is held to the same ones, and they are certain to be clearly outlined in the course syllabus or on the first day of class.

ENTHUSIASTIC

The professors at UT Tyler are equally enthusiastic about the subject and their students. We want you to learn and grow, and in truth are still growing ourselves. Feel free to ask us about our experience in the field or questions outside of an assignment.

While Sociology isn't exactly an action movie, I will do my best to make the material entertaining. Expect each professor to put their own spin on the material and embrace that learning can be fun.

MY values

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM ME # 2

SINCERE

A professor can't be enthusiastic without being sincere. We truly want you to do well and spread our passion for a subject. You can rest assured that a professor isn't going to lie to you on a subject or waste your time when we are as passionate about your education as you are.

STRICT

I know this word has a negative connotation, but it's actually desirable in a professor. When I say strict, I mean your professors will demand that certain rules concerning behavior are followed. This is necessary to keep the class in order and genuinely help you focus on your education. Instead of getting in trouble, however, the strictness comes in making you take responsibility for your actions, often resulting in a failing grade and tuition money down the drain.

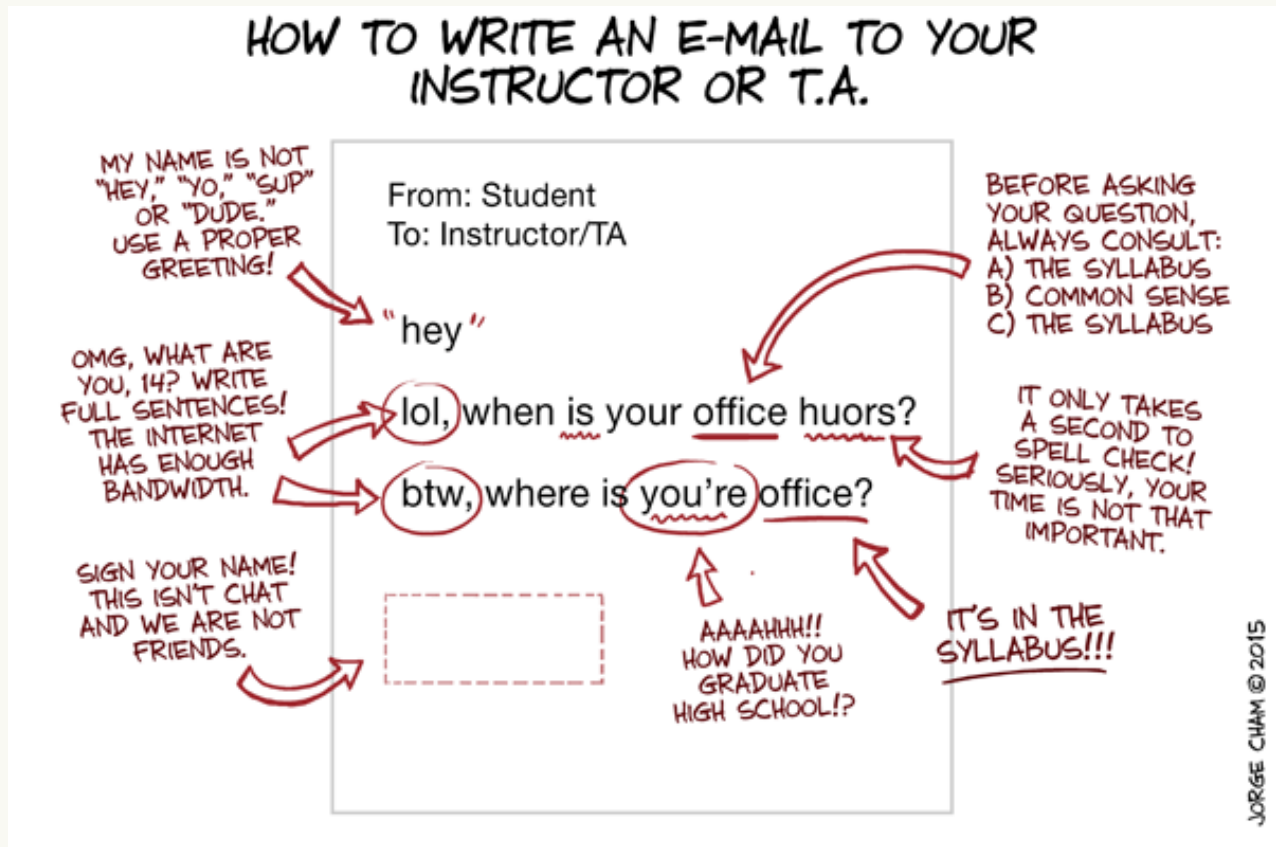

OPTIMISTIC

You come to college because you're excited about the future and what you'll make of it. Professors go into teaching because they feel the same passion for learning. While no, not every professor you have is going to be bubbly and bursting with smiles, we are always hopeful for our students, and grateful to be here at UT Tyler. As long as you're willing to learn, even if you've hit burnout, we'll be there to help you push forward and improve.

RESPONSIVE

Possibly the most important thing a professor should be is responsive. Questions, comments, and interaction both in and out of the classroom are encouraged. Professors usually have scheduled office hours when you can ask for help. I also share my email so you may get in contact that way.

COMMUNICATION

OFFICE HOURS:

When? My office hours are on Wednesday, 10:30 am - 11:45 am, or by appointment.

What are "office hours"? This is a time where you can reasonably expect to get in immediate touch with me. In university, office hours are times when your professor is literally in their office to answer questions, have meetings, walk you through an assignment, give you feedback, etc.

Why? If you have any questions, need feedback, are confused about an assignment, or just want to talk, I'll be available that time!

Please note that these times are subject to change. This is time for all of my students, so I may not be available at all times. Please email me ahead of time to confirm you want to meet so that I make sure I have time for everyone. ALSO, even if it's not an "office hour" please feel free to reach out at ANY TIME. I will do my best to respond as quickly as possible.*

OFFICE ADDRESS: CAS 144

And I am always available via email.

EMAIL : Canvas (for class-related questions)
acregler@uttyler.edu (for non-class related questions)

- We receive a lot of emails and notifications. To lower the risk of emails getting lost in Junk folders, or system errors, I prefer Canvas for communication with current students.
- Due to large number of students this semester, if/when sending me a direct email, please indicate clearly to which class you are referring in your emails to me.
- I endeavor to respond to emails within 2 days. If you don't receive a reply from me longer than 3 days, it is likely that I did not receive your email, so please forward/re-send it again.

EMAIL ETIQUETTE

EMAIL ETIQUETTE IS IMPORTANT IN A COLLEGE SETTING BECAUSE EMAIL IS OFTEN THE MAIN MODE OF COMMUNICATION BETWEEN STUDENTS AND PROFESSORS. STUDENTS MAY HAVE TROUBLE COMMUNICATING IN THE CLASSROOM IF THE CLASS IS LARGE, AND STUDENTS MAY BE UNABLE TO VISIT PROFESSORS DURING THEIR OFFICE HOURS.

INNAPROPRIATE EMAIL TOPICS:

Be aware that most college professors receive copious emails daily. If you have a simple question about an assignment, such as the due date, try referring to the syllabus or asking a classmate before contacting your professor. DO NOT email you professor if

- you have a question about an assignment due the same day.
- you have a question or comment unrelated to the course content.
- you are turning in an assignment, and your professor does not accept assignments through email.
- you are requesting an extension (since your professor may not see it in time). your question or comment will require an extended response.
- you have a confidential personal issue or complaint you would like to disclose.

APPROPRIATE EMAIL TOPICS:

You may email your professor if

- your question cannot be answered by a classmate or the syllabus.
- you have a question about an assignment due after the next class session.
- you have a question or comment related to the course material.
- you want to schedule a consultation/meeting with the professor

 An email can potentially be read by anyone (e.g., if you accidentally send it to the wrong person). Try to arrange time outside of class to discuss confidential and/or personal matters face to face.*

- I will not reply to emails asking some variant of 'How am I doing in this class?' I will reply to emails requesting an appointment to discuss your progress.
- I will not reply to emails that are not from @patriots.edu address.
- I will not reply to emails asking me to 'round up' or 'bump up' your final grade or emails asking for extra credit.
- I check email regularly, but not obsessively. It's unlikely you'll get an immediate response, but I will respond within 48 business hours.

EXAMPLE EMAIL TEMPLATE FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS:

Dear Professor (insert professor's last name),

My name is (insert your name) and I am in your (insert class name) class. I hope that this emails finds you well.

I am writing because (insert problem/issue). Is it possible to (insert proposed solution/question).

Thank you so much for your time. Have a great rest of your day!

Sincerely,

EVALUATION CRITERIA

EXAMS (25 points each) - combination of 3 short essay questions and 10 multiple choice questions. Although exams can be stressful, they are very important when it comes to calculating your final grade. The Midterm exam will give me a perspective of how far and wide I can facilitate, orient and guide you with the knowledge, ideas, abilities, skills and attitudes that I tend to build up in order to achieve my teaching objectives, and to make you, as students, responsive to the changing needs of the society. The main purpose of final exams is to ensure that one has retained all the information that they have learned throughout the semester. Short essay questions can reveal the depth and breadth of students' knowledge, as well as erroneous conclusions that are drawn. This will allow you to practice your writing and argument development.

PRESENTATION (20 points) - Each student (paired in a group) will be required to prepare and present to the class a research project for a topic of their interest. Students will have complete academic freedom in choosing the format and the topic. This is with the intent to extend yourselves to yield the benefits of research and presentation. The complexities of research and presenting can be intimidating at first, but students will not be without help. By engaging in research firsthand, students find it easier to understand the rationale underlying others' research. Exposure to an area of research undoubtedly also helps students explore career fields. Working in groups will allow you to exercise and develop leadership skills and provide you a supporting system. These presentations will be peer-reviewed – graded by your classmates.

PRESENTATION PEER REVIEW (10 points) - Students will peer review each presentation during class. This process will be conducted by filling out an online questionnaire worksheet. Instructions and guideline will be provided on Canvas and the process will be discussed during class. This makes the presentations more collaborative and gives students opportunities to learn from one another. Peer reviews can provide students with some of the most insightful feedback and help them develop stronger work. It can also build comfort and normalcy around receiving constructive feedback.

PREFLECTIVE UNIT QUIZZES (10 points) - After each unit posted on Canvas, there will be a Quiz with 5-10 multiple choice questions from the unit. The Quizzes can help students practice existing knowledge, prepare for exams, while stimulating interest in learning about new subject matter.

CLASS ATTENDANCE (10 points) - This course is designed to maximize your learning of the subject matter and advance your skills through a variety of activities. Therefore, this attendance policy is aimed at supporting our educational goals. Any class session or activity missed, regardless of cause, reduces the opportunity for your learning and may adversely affect your achievement. I reserve the right to lower your final course grade, if there is a failure to notify me for absence for more than 4 classes.

MIDTERM EXAM	25 points
FINAL EXAM	25 points
PRESENTATION	20 points
PEER REVIEW	10 points
UNIT QUIZZES	10 points
ATTENDANCE	10 points

TOTAL: 100 points

A	90 - 100 points
B	80 - 89 points
C	70 - 79 points
D	60 - 69 points
F	59 and below points

 Grades will be based on a total number of points earned. More in-depth assignments will be worth more points. At the end of the course, each student is assigned a final grade, according to the grading scale proposed.*

EVALUATION OVERVIEW

A:

An "A" reflects a level of performance which is "distinctly superior" to that shown by the majority of students in a course. "A students" show a level of commitment to scholarship equal to that shown by the instructor; they often research a topic beyond that required by any assignment. "A students" are consistently prepared for every class period, keenly engaged in the conduct of the course, and always seeking implications to the content of a course beyond that offered by the text or by a lecture example. They are usually the first to ask questions in class and their comments always demonstrate more than a superficial appreciation of a topic. Usually, "A students" have a unique aptitude for the material that they study and have mature time management skills such that they never cram for exams or need additional time to complete an assignment. Because they carry these skills and attitudes with them to other courses, "A students" usually earn the top grades in other courses. Needless-to-say, "A students" always earn the highest grades on examinations and papers. Because of the high standards demanded of these students, "A's" are earned by a small fraction of course participants, usually as few as 15% of the students enrolled in a course

B:

A "B" is the result of consistently above average academic performance. A "B" may in fact reflect "superior" achievement but is not quite the equal of the very best in a class. "B students" may earn the highest grade on several exams or papers, but do not do so consistently as other demands, including other courses, may compete with their scholarship to produce inconsistent performance. "B" grades are typically earned by 25-40% of a class at this University.

C:

"C" results from consistently average work, or from highly variable work (periods of inferior achievement in addition to superior achievement). "C" grades often result from mere memorization of course content without an appreciation of the implications of the subject matter or an unwillingness to examine the subject in depth. Consequently, "C students" may be able to recognize a term or concept but may not be able to explain it or place it in its proper context. "C's" are often the result when individuals cannot effectively manage the demands of their day such that they are driven from deadline to deadline. In addition, "C students" may give infrequent, but clear indication that they are disinterested in class discussions, lectures or even in the discipline itself. "C's" are earned by approximately 30% of a class.

D:

A "D" reflects consistently below average work. While the "D student" may have performed passing work, usually she or he has never risen above average performance and may show significant periods of unacceptable performance. "D's" are the product of many factors, by other factors and activities for the student's time and attention. "D's" might result from factors such as illness or family emergencies that are beyond the student's ability to control; However, "D students" usually seek help only after irreparable damage has been done to their overall performance in a class. "D's" are earned by approximately 10-15% of students in a course.

F:

"F's" reflect failure to learn an appreciable amount in a course. There are many causes of this failure including poor preparation, lack of maturity, low scholastic aptitude, etc. "F's" result when an instructor cannot, in conscience, certify that a student shows any mastery of a subject beyond that level demonstrated by an uninformed lay person. Because of our liberal course withdrawal policies, "F's" are usually rare, but at least two or three individuals (4-6% of a course) receive one because their disinterest is so profound that they do not know or care about their impending failure until weeks following the last date to withdraw from a course.

I:

If a student, because of extenuating circumstances, is unable to complete all of the requirements for a course by the end of the semester, then the instructor may recommend an incomplete "I" for the course. The student and the instructor must submit an Incomplete Form detailing the work required and the time by which the work must be completed to their respective department chair or college dean for approval. The time limit established must not exceed one year for both undergraduate and graduate students.

COURSE PHILOSOPHY

CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT

Active Learning. This course will engage you in active learning, so your attendance and participation are critical. In this class, we will work together to make sense out of the material. I value your input and want you to participate in discussion as much as possible.

Discussion-Based Instruction. I prefer to lead discussions by asking questions. That means it's important for you to do the assigned readings and think about the concepts being discussed. I will come prepared with a series of questions to walk us through the material, but our discussions will be of higher quality and greater interest to you when you actively participate.

Be Respectful and Receptive. One of the most important aspects of our discussion-based class is that everyone comes to class with an open-mind about each other's ideas – myself included! We are discussing, interpreting, and applying sociological theories to examine complex social events. These are things about which reasonable people can disagree. I expect each one of you to be academic, mature, and open-minded. We should be able to have a lively debate with disagreement without getting personal or disrespectful.

HOW TO SUCCEED

Syllabus as Course Manual. This is a long syllabus – I've done that intentionally to give you all the information you will need to succeed in this course! You should think of this syllabus as your manual for this course. Read over it, get to know it, and start here if you have any questions about anything in this class.

I'm Here to Help! My goal is to support each of you while you learn this material, and I will do whatever I reasonably can to make this class a success for each one of you. If you're confused about anything, come talk to me. If you're having trouble keeping up, come talk to me.

Commit to the Class! It's important to put in the effort to make this class beneficial to you. This means doing the assignments, coming to class, and actively participating in our discussions. Be proactive about your education, and I'll do whatever I can to help you succeed!

COURSE POLICIES

LATE WORK

Dates for submission of papers or taking exams will be observed closely. I do not accept late work or provide extensions.

Deadlines are important because they make it possible to evaluate students' progress within a particular amount of time. For the sake of equity and fairness, all students will have the same amount of time to complete assigned work. That being said, life is complex and doesn't always go smoothly. If you have a serious illness, family emergency, or a similar problem, contact me as soon as possible. Do NOT wait until the last minute to contact me.

PLAGIARISM

As a Ut Tyler faculty member, I am required to uphold the Honor Code established by the University. In the event that you are caught violating this code, I am required to notify the appropriate Judicial Affairs, which will negatively impact both your grade in this course and your permanent academic record. http://www.uttyler.edu/mopp/documents/8Student Conduct and Discipline.pdf

GRADING TIME

Exams evaluations will be completed within 2-3 weeks unless otherwise communicated.

Please keep in mind that this is a large class and grading takes time. There will be general exam review during class period. You may only receive feedback on your assignments if there are specific points or issues that need addressing.

FINAL GRADE

The final grade is based on points, not percentages, so rounding issues will not be a concern.

Do not ask me to "bump" your grade. Every point is laid out for you; it is your responsibility to earn the grade that you want/need. There are no opportunities for extra credit.

Regrading request form is available on Canvas, so please bring any mistakes to my attention in a timely manner.

DECORUM

You are not required to agree with me or your peers. You are expected to be courteous, and your participation should demonstrate your understanding of rhetoric: careful listening, thoughtful acknowledgement of perspectives, and ethically constructed counterclaims that focus on the quality of the argument and not on the value of the person. Discriminatory language will not be tolerated.

UT TYLER POLICIES

UT Tyler Honor Code

Every member of the UT Tyler community joins together to embrace: Honor and integrity that will not allow me to lie, cheat, or steal, nor to accept the actions of those who do.

Students Rights and Responsibilities

To know and understand the policies that affect your rights and responsibilities as a student at UT Tyler, please follow this link: www.uttyler.edu/wellness/rightsresponsibilities.php

Campus Carry

We respect the right and privacy of students 21 and over who are duly licensed to carry concealed weapons in this class. License holders are expected to behave responsibly and keep a handgun secure and concealed. More information is available at <http://www.uttyler.edu/about/campus-carry/index.php>.

UT Tyler a Tobacco-Free University:

All forms of tobacco will not be permitted on the UT Tyler main campus, branch campuses, and any property owned by UT Tyler. This applies to all members of the University community, including students, faculty, staff, University affiliates, contractors, and visitors.

Forms of tobacco not permitted include cigarettes, cigars, pipes, water pipes (hookah), bidis, kreteks, electronic cigarettes, smokeless tobacco, snuff, chewing tobacco, and all other tobacco products.

There are several cessation programs available to students looking to quit smoking, including counseling, quitlines, and group support. For more information on cessation programs please visit www.uttyler.edu/tobacco-free.

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies:

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated.) Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

State-Mandated Course Drop Policy:

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2- year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Disability/Accessibility Services:

In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA) the University of Tyler at Texas offers accommodations to students with learning, physical and/or psychological disabilities. If you have a disability, including non-visible a diagnosis such as a learning disorder, chronic illness, TBI, PTSD, ADHD, or you have a history of modifications or accommodations in a previous educational environment, you are encouraged to visit <https://hood.accessiblelearning.com/UTTyler> and fill out the New Student application. The Student Accessibility and Resources (SAR) office will contact you when your application has been submitted and an appointment with Cynthia Lowery, Assistant Director Student Services/ADA Coordinator. For more information, including filling out an application for services, please visit the SAR webpage at <http://www.uttyler.edu/disabilityservices>, the SAR office located in the University Center, # 3150 or call 903.566.7079.

Student Absence due to Religious Observance:

Students who anticipate being absent from class due to a religious observance are requested to inform the instructor of such absences by the second class meeting of the semester.

Student Absence for University-Sponsored Events and Activities

If you intend to be absent for a university-sponsored event or activity, you (or the event sponsor) must notify the instructor at least two weeks prior to the date of the planned absence. At that time the instructor will set a date and time when make-up assignments will be completed.

Social Security and FERPA Statement:

It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.

Emergency Exits and Evacuation:

Everyone is required to exit the building when a fire alarm goes off. Follow your instructor's directions regarding the appropriate exit. If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class. Do not re-enter the building unless given permission by University Police, Fire department, or Fire Prevention Services.

UT TYLER POLICIES

Student Standards of Academic Conduct:

Disciplinary proceedings may be initiated against any student who engages in scholastic dishonesty, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.

1. "Cheating" includes, but is not limited to:

- copying from another student's test paper;
 - using, during a test, materials not authorized by the person giving the test; failure to comply with I instructions given by the person administering the test;
 - possession during a test of materials which are not authorized by the person giving the test, such as class notes or specifically designed "crib notes". The presence of textbooks constitutes a violation if they have been specifically prohibited by the person administering the test;
 - using, buying, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in whole or part the contents of an unadministered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program.
 - collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during a test or other assignment without authority;
 - discussing the contents of an examination with another student who will take the examination;
 - divulging the contents of an examination, for the purpose of preserving questions for use by another, when the instructors has designated that the examination is not to be removed from the examination room or not to be returned or to be kept by the student;
 - substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for oneself to take a course, a test, or any course-related assignment;
 - paying or offering money or other valuable thing to, or coercing another person to obtain an unadministered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program or information about an unadministered test, test key, home solution or computer program;
 - falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other academic work offered for credit;
 - taking, keeping, misplacing, or damaging the property of The University of Texas at Tyler, or of another, if the student knows or reasonably should know that an unfair academic advantage would be gained by such conduct; and
 - misrepresenting facts, including providing false grades or resumes, for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit or injuring another student academically or financially.
- "Plagiarism" includes, but is not limited to, the appropriation, buying, receiving as a gift, or obtaining by any means another's work and the submission of it as one's own academic work offered for credit.
 - "Collusion" includes, but is not limited to, the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any section of the rules on scholastic dishonesty.

Important Covid-19 Information for Classrooms and Laboratories

Students are expected to wear face masks covering their nose and mouth in public settings (including classrooms and laboratories). The UT Tyler community of Patriots views adoption of these practices consistent with its Honor Code and a sign of good citizenship and respectful care of fellow classmates, faculty, and staff.

Students who are feeling ill or experiencing symptoms such as sneezing, coughing, digestive issues (e.g. nausea, diarrhea), or a higher-than-normal temperature should stay at home and are encouraged to use the UT Tyler COVID-19 Information and Procedures website to review protocols, check symptoms, and report possible exposure. Students needing additional accommodations may contact the Office of Student Accessibility and Resources at University Center 3150, or call (903) 566-7079 or email saroffice@uttyler.edu.

Recording of Class Sessions

Class sessions may be recorded by the instructor for use by students enrolled in this course. Recordings that contain personally identifiable information or other information subject to FERPA shall not be shared with individuals not enrolled in this course unless appropriate consent is obtained from all relevant students. Class recordings are reserved only for the use of students enrolled in the course and only for educational purposes. Course recordings should not be shared outside of the course in any form without express permission.
