ORIGINS OF HUMANITY AND CIVILIZATION:
THROUGH THE LENS OF THE ANTHROPOCENE

Fall Semester 2022

Location: CAS 104

Tuesday and Thursday 2:00 PM– 3:20 PM

Professor: Dr. Thomas Guderjan

Office: CAS 154

Office Hours: M-F 9AM- 4PM

Email: tguderjan@uttyler.edu

Course Description: This course takes examines the temporal scope of human prehistory in two parts. The first half of the class examines the biological origins of humanity and the attributes that make us human. The second half examines the theoretical framework regarding why complex society (AKA, civilization) developed and then examines examples of this development through the human past. In part, the lens of the concept of the Anthropocene will be used to view these developments. The Anthropocene is the current period of geological time and is defined as the period during which the major casual force for landscape change is the activity of humans. So, we will examine how prehistoric civilizations impacted the landscape of our planet.

Textbook: There is no textbook for this course. Readings will be provided via CANVAS.

Class: The assigned readings will be supplemented by lectures, case studies and films. The lectures and case studies will complement but not duplicate the readings. You are expected to have read appropriate assignments prior to coming to class. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of all deadlines and material discussed in class.

Grading: Grading will be based on 3 take-home writing examinations. Two weeks prior to the due date, students and the instructor will develop a list of appropriate questions covering the material from the class. Students will select a sub-set of these questions and write a 2-3 page summary of each query. These are to be turned in electronically to the instructor's email address.

Grades will be weighed as follows:

Attendance and participation		10%
3 take home exams	30% each	90%

Attendance: Attendance in this class is mandatory. University courses are about learning a wealth of material in a short period of time - with the goal of being able to think critically about the topic at hand. As such, attendance at lecture will greatly increase your ability to understand the field of anthropology.

Additionally, attendance will improve your quiz, exam and final paper grades. You will be allowed one unexcused absence. Each subsequent unexcused absence will result in a reduction of your attendance and participation grade. (Please note my definition of an excused absence is broad and includes not only illness, but also work-related conflicts, personal days, etc. For an absence to be excused you will need to advise me ASAP.)

Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions waivers

Financial Aid State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.
