Course description: This course is designed to introduce students to the fundamental concepts, tools, and principles of strategy design, implementation and competitive analysis. It focuses on the managerial decisions and actions that affect the financial performance of the firm and its survival likelihood. The course focuses on the key information and data needed by managers, proper and sufficient analyses, the various organizational processes, and the skills and business assessments the decision makers must use to formulate the appropriate strategies, position their firms, and define firm boundaries and maximize long-term profits in the face of uncertainty and competition.

This is a Capstone course that integrates accounting, economics, law, finance, management, and marketing in the solution of an organization's problems. Focus on the problems and perspectives of the firm's top management team as they attempt to achieve and retain competitive advantages.

Strategic Management is an integrative and interdisciplinary course. It takes a comprehensive view of the firm's two environments: external that includes buyers, suppliers, competitors, technology, the economy, capital markets, government, and global forces, this external environment is assumed as constantly changing and therefore is characterized by uncertainty. In studying strategy, the course draws together and builds on all the ideas, concepts, and theories from your functional courses such as Accounting, Economics, Finance, Marketing, Organizational Behavior, and Statistics.

The course takes a general management perspective, perceiving the firm as a whole unit, and investigating how strategies in each functional area aggregates to embody the overall competitive strategy. The key strategic business decisions of concern in this course involve choosing competitive strategies, creating competitive advantages, taking advantage of external opportunities, securing and defending sustainable market positions, and allocating critical resources over long periods. Decisions such as these can only be made effectively by viewing a firm holistically, and over the long term.

COURSE FORMAT AND OPEN DISCUSSIONS METHOD

THE "There are no right answers, but there are wrong answers." RULE

In this course, there will be several video lectures that cover the fundamental concepts in chapters 1-14. Those are broad concepts that are applicable in the real world. However, because each real-world case has its unique characteristics (for example Facebook is a tech company but it differs in its characteristics from other tech companies like Google), this means each case will have a more customized concepts but these customized concepts will be definitely derived from the general concept we study. It is through this derivative approach the learning process occurs. What we might apply on one case (firm) may not be applicable for other firms depending on how similar (different) they are and depending on a bundle of characteristics of these firms and their internal and external environment specific factors and forces.

In order to achieve the objectives of the course, we will dedicate a significant portion of our class assigned cases, assignments, and discussions on the analysis and debate of selected managerial and competitive strategy cases. We will start by general discussions of the key theoretical models and frameworks in each chapter.

There will be four to six discussions on real world cases and companies where you will have to be fully prepared to comment, respond to, and provide some unique insights to the discussion questions, you are REQUIRED TO engage in constructive debate using the theoretical frameworks discussed in the video lectures and that are extensively covered in the book, you are encouraged to gather as much information (additional to those in the lectures, PPT, and book) and also expected to use your prior knowledge in previous classes which were prerequisites for this course, and your critical thinking and analysis skills in all your assignments, cases, discussions responses and engagements, and any other work. A set of business cases has been highlighted on a range of companies from a variety of industry settings. Each case is proposed to provide some insights on something specific, yet each can teach us many things. We will not attempt to exhaust each case of all its learning experiences, but rather build up a "war chest" of analytical tools, skills and insights, progressively over all the selected cases. These cases are listed in the tentative schedule of the course and maybe edited at any time to accommodate real-world business affairs and issues as well as new business-strategy related developments.

The quality of your learning experience during our class discussions will be directly determined by: (1) your degree of preparation, active involvement in discussions, watching video lectures and communication with the instructor and your class-mates, and (2) your classmates' preparation, listening, and participation. Some will not agree with you, and you are expected to defend your argument. So long as criticism is directed at arguments and not at individuals, is relevant to the issues at hand and coherently argued, it is very much welcomed.

Please refer to getting started module for a Guide to Case Analysis and to Guide to Article Analysis when working on cases and assignments. Please comply with the rubric. Please read the instructions of assignments and cases very thoroughly.

You are strongly encouraged to form study groups that regularly meet to share insights and ideas about the assigned cases. While this is voluntary, experience shows that satisfactory performance in this course, and a good grade, depend on it.

General Rubric and Expectations for All Assignments

Each assignment will most likely have a set of questions, each question will address a certain concept we discussed in class. The concept, say for example the value chain analysis and its importance, will have several specific elements and components, so the student must incorporate all the specific details of the concept and provide practical examples from the examples in the book, real world examples (PREFERRED), and then discuss briefly what the implications are for the company. Each work requires thorough analysis that covers all the relevant aspects of the problem being discussed. For example, the internal analysis requires using VRIO and diamond models, along with the value chain analysis, and a brief comparison with the firm's major competitors. Each work requires supportive evidence such as numbers from the company annual reports. For example, when discussing the first mover advantage or the R&D benefits or the learning curve experience and advantages you might want to look at the firm's annual report and see its cost of goods sold compared to its immediate competitors or later entrants to the same industry or you may want to compare the company's investments and spending on marketing compared to its competitors and see why one company spends more and generates less profit, or you may want to see the ROA for each firm and compare their sizes and spending on R&D and analyze why some benefit more than others from their R&D? these are some and not exhaustive examples. •The terminology must be strategic and professional, not generic. This requires using proper terms and conceptualizations along with immediate practical examples from real world cases •The flow of the ideas must be organized as if it is intended for a professional meeting where your superiors are expecting a well-crafted report. The structure must follow the flow of the questions and must reflect the integration of the relevant ideas and grouping them together in a meaningful way. •APA formatting is required for all assignments and reports, for detailed guidelines please visit the following https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/apa_style/apa_formatting_and_style_guide/general_format.html

Exams

There will be two exams. Exam 1 will cover the first five chapters (Chapter 1 thru chapter 5). This will be a multiple-choice exam and will be proctored. Arrangements will be posted on Canvas as for the proctoring. Exam 2 will cover chapters 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14. Review questions may be posted prior to the exam at the instructor's discretion. Chapters 6, 7, and 8 will be evaluated using case studies and practical assignments. The practice quizzes 1 and 2 will be as review questions for exam 1 and 2 respectively.

Assignments and cases

Each chapter is associated with a case study. Your responsibility is to read the chapter and the case ahead of the lecture. Preferably start by reading the PowerPoint, then the book chapter text, and then finish with the case. This will help you easily digest the fundamentals of the chapter. However, you will be assigned some graded cases, in this case you will answer a series of questions related to the case at hand. All case answers MUST thoroughly address the question being answered and the use of what you have learned from reading the book, the lecture, and from any credible external sources (e.g., internet, company website, etc). I do not set a minimum or maximum pages for the assignments and case assignments, as long as you thoroughly address the questions and provide meaningful answers and insights supported by the proper use of theory in book, frameworks in the book, and any evidence such as key financial ratios which I have posted a summary of under the getting started materials. For the case assignments, you will need to use the information in each case text, the case PPT notes available in each module, and the concepts discussed in the materials (textbook chapters, videos associated with each chapter, company website, internet credible sources...etc).

Term Project

Pick five companies from the Fortune 500 or S&P 500 and download their 10k report from their website. Once you download the reports, create an excel sheet where you list all those companies and you will start adding the following items to the excel sheet gradually:

1. Company's mission and vision, core values, purpose.
2. Firm external environment key influential factors
3. Firm internal environment key factors
4. Five forces analysis using the framework provided in the book and Harvard materials
5. Firm value chain analysis
6. Firm key strengths, weaknesses, threats, and opportunities
7. Firm governance structure
8. Firm CSR (Corporate social responsibility) reports
9. Firm R&D spending for the last 4-5 years
10. Firm competitive actions using news media search for terms like launched new products, mergers, acquisitions, marketing campaigns, etc. for the last 4-5 years and try to have a numerical count of it.

11. Plot a graph of the firm's R&D spending and the key financial ratios such as ROA, ROE, or Tobin's Q
12. Do number 11 but between firm's competitive actions using the numerical count and key financial ratios
13. Determine the future horizon for each company using innovative and creative thinking, and also using your knowledge about potential changes in the business landscape 10-20 years from now, be creative, imagine, ponder, and don't be shy to assume whatever you think might happen because it actually just possible to happen.
14. Based upon your comprehensive understanding of the role of strategy, prepare an executive report outlining the company's current status, past and current achievements, past problems and how they solved them and future possible problems and what should they do, past opportunities and how they approached them and future opportunities and how they might capitalize upon them.

Use APA formatting in your final submission. Your work must be thorough, supported with proper numbers extracted from credible sources such as reputable media outlets and company's annual reports. YOUR ANALYSIS OF THE COMPANIES CURRENT COMPETITIVE STATUS MUST INCORPORATE THE FRAMEWORKS WE HAVE IN THE BOOK AND OTHER MATERIALS SUCH AS DIAMOND MODEL, VRIO MODEL, AND OTHER MODELS. Complete citations are required for all sources. The number of pages should be no less than 12 and no more than 20. You must use graphs, figures, and models to show your professionalism in writing. When discussing the company's competitiveness status, use comparison with its major competitors on the various categories you will use to examine and assess its competitiveness (making tables will make this easier for you).

1. Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar> (Links to an external site.). Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions that students need to be aware of. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a “W” grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

1. State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See Academic Calendar for the specific date).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

1. Disability Services

In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodation must provide documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services counselor.
