Content Warning

This course will increase your awareness and convey information to help you in developing knowledge about the impact of psychological trauma. It is very possible that you, someone you know, or any of your classmates have survived very significant crises or traumas in their lives.

You are alerted that the nature of this course involves graphic discussions of many topics that can be stressful and distressing including, but not limited to: abuse, rape, suicide, homicide, addictions, disordered eating, violence, racism, sexism, and assorted other issues related to class topic. Content may be provided via film, lectures, video, discussion, or other media presentations. Some of the lectures, media presentations, and discussions may have a strong emotional impact on you. This course is not intended to facilitate the exploration and healing of trauma for individual students in the class, although it is possible that experiences you have had may be recalled and thus be felt more deeply because of the content of this course. If you experience distress you may discuss concerns with the instructor or visit The UT Tyler Student Counseling Center or some other associated support resource. I encourage the use of self-care strategies both during and after this course.

Methods of Instruction

Teaching Strategies

This course will be conducted completely online. There are NO mandatory face-to-face meetings with the instructor although online small group work may be required. I will communicate and collaborate using various technologies that will be discussed below. It is critical to your success that you fully engage through each of these modes of interactions.

Quality online courses are designed to provide the student with every learning opportunity that face-to-face contact allows and at the same time, foster independent learning of the course material. Traditional face to face instruction allows for approximately 42hours of in class time and an equal amount of time for homework, readings, and assignments. Therefore, the course is designed to require approximately 84 hours of clock time to complete. The course is set up in 12 weekly learning units that equate to approximately 7 hours of classwork (lectures, activities, homework, readings) per week.

Canvas (https://www.uttyler.edu/canvas/)

Canvas will serve as the overall structure and launching pad for all our activities in this course. In Canvas, you will find announcements, assignments, course schedule, discussion boards, links to outside activities and so on. Within each module folder, the activities necessary to successfully complete that module are described in great detail. Take care to examine the module and get in touch with me immediately if you are not clear about the requirements.

Course Policies and Requirements

Informed Consent Statement

Faculty members are dedicated to the educational, personal, and professional growth and development of our students. Faculty are in a unique position as both instructors who assess students' academic skills and members of the counseling profession with an ethical obligation to the profession. In both of these roles, it is the faculty's responsibility to evaluate student competencies within the realm of professional counseling and to address any concerns regarding students' professional competence. As such, please be aware of the following information regarding this course:

- The counseling profession encourages that counselors fully integrate their own personal attributes and identity, as well as their strengths and weaknesses, into therapeutic processes. Therefore, self-awareness is critical because this knowledge relates to being an effective therapist.
- There will be an emphasis in many courses on self-awareness/exploration, as well as giving feedback to peers. Although uncomfortable at times, we encourage students to be open to self-exploration, since we frequently ask clients to do so.
- At times, class may include experiential and self-awareness exercises. It is important to distinguish between sharing one's emotional reactions to such experiential class activities and revealing information about one's personal history. Self-disclosure of personal history is not required in order to successfully pass any course;
 however, students may be expected to share their reactions to experiential activities.
- Self-disclosures will not be used as a basis for grading in any course. However, should a student disclose information indicating impairment or the potential for harm to clients, the faculty member may take appropriate action in accordance with the ACA Code of Ethics (2014).
- Students often experience personal growth as they progress through the program. However, the courses are not meant to be a means of personal therapy. The focus in classes is on self-awareness and the enhancement and growth of necessary counselor skills.
- Please be aware that, although all instructors strive to create a safe environment for any personal disclosures, we cannot guarantee that other students will maintain the confidentiality of any such disclosures that are made.
- It is each student's responsibility to determine an appropriate level of self-disclosure (i.e. the content and depth of personal information that you share) in experiential learning activities.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend class by checking in online at least once a week to listen to lectures, complete assignments and quizzes, and participate in class discussions. Be aware that participation in this class is much more than simply responding to a discussion question. You will be expected to address thoughtful questions and responses and interact with your classmates.

Technology Requirements

All students taking this course should have access to a computer with an internet connection that can support the use of Canvas. If you are having trouble logging onto Canvas or uploading assignments please contact the Canvas helpdesk at (903)566-7439 or email them at itsupport@patriots.uttyler.edu. You can also receive help by using the Help tab located on the left side of your Canvas screen, using the Canvas guides, or contacting Canvas help at (844)214-6949. If you are having technical difficulties please alert the professor as soon as possible. Assignments will be accepted through email only if there are difficulties with Canvas. Word of advice when taking an online course: Do not wait until the last minute to submit your assignments as this is a sure way to ensure you will have technical difficulties (remember Murphy's law).

Online Communication

All written communication that takes place within this course must adhere to the rules of written etiquette. Please remember that you are in a graduate program and are earning a professional degree, therefore please respond to your instructor and your colleagues in a professional matter. Please refrain from using texting language (i.e. lol, btw, omg) and/or emoticons (i.e. (:- / ,':-)) in your discussion responses and in communication with your instructor and colleagues. Other things to keep in mind:

- Open your email with a salutation (e.g., Hi, Hello, Dear Dr. or Ms. X) and finish with a closing (e.g., Best, Regards, Thank you, your name). Introductory emails should address your instructor more formally (Dear Dr. Grad).
- Use complete sentences and avoid jargon, especially text-type words (e.g., C U). This is especially important when sending messages from mobile devices.
- Be aware that using capital letters to express yourself is considered SHOUTING.
- Maintain a professional tone
- Avoid sending email in anger or frustration. Walk away from the computer and wait at least 24 hours.
- Whether in writing or in person, derogatory or prejudiced remarks are still considered bad manners and discussion that contains such comments will be addressed by the instructor.
- Please refrain from sending junk mail, forwards, or advertisements to the class via Canvas.

Patriot E-mail

University policy requires that all e-mail correspondence between students and instructor be done via the Patriot account ONLY. Check your Patriot E-Mail frequently. Announcements pertaining to class or departmental business will be sent to the student's Patriot account. In accord with university policy your instructor will respond ONLY to student correspondence sent via Patriot E-mail. Please do not contact the instructor via the Canvas messaging system. My email address is rgrad@uttyler.edu.

Note: make sure that you do not send emails to rgrad@patriots.uttyler.edu, as I will not receive these messages

Diversity Statement

Students are expected to be sensitive to individual and multicultural differences and to treat one another with respect during their experience in this course. Sensitivity to gender/race/ethnicity/ability/sexuality is expected and disrespectful language and/or behavior will not be tolerated. The American Counseling Association has explicit policies, standards, and ethical guidelines regarding diversity issues. In this class, you will be expected to reflect the standards and ethics of the counseling profession, especially in the area of diversity. Any use of written or verbal language should be consistent with the respect and tolerance that are the cornerstone of the counseling profession and should reflect the ACA Human Rights Committee's 1987 statement on tolerance, which states: In order to guarantee that each individual is free to pursue his/her potential, each member of ACA is charged to (a) engage in ongoing examination of his/her own attitudes, feelings, stereotypic views, perceptions and behaviors that might have prejudicial or limiting impact on others; (b) contribute to an increased sensitivity on the part of other individuals, groups or institutions to the barriers to opportunity imposed by discrimination; (c) advocate equal rights for all individuals through concerted personal, professional, and political activity.

Course Feedback and Evaluation

Your constructive assessment of this course plays an indispensable role in shaping education at University of Texas at Tyler. Upon completing the course, please take time to fill out the online course evaluation.

Student Performance Evaluation Criteria & Procedure

Course Activities/Requirements

• Class Introduction Video (10 points)

During first week, we will use an easy to use video discussion platform called Flipgrid to do our class introductions. You will be asked to introduce yourself to us in 3 minutes or less by answering a few questions: You will have to watch and comment on your classmate's videos. Use this as a time to get to know one another in this online space. The Class Introduction Video is due Sunday May 15th by 11:59 PM [important]).

• Homework Assignments (20 points each – 120 points total)

In weeks 2, 3, 4, 7, 10, 12 you will have activities that ask you to synthesize and operationalize the readings and lectures. Please read the instructions for each of these assignments VERY closely and make sure you address each point clearly, concisely, and thoroughly. Grades for these assignments are not purely participatory which means that just because you submit something for the assignment does NOT mean that you automatically get an "A". "A" work fully addresses all aspects of the assignment and clearly demonstrates your ability to incorporate the new information you are learning from the course. A complete grading rubric for this assignment can be found at the end of this syllabus (Appendix 1). Due Sundays by 11:59 PM [important])

• Self-Care Plan and Journal (15 points each - 30 points total)

This assignment has 2 parts.

- Part I Self-Care Plan: During week 1, you will develop a self-care plan (due Sunday May 15th by 11:59 PM [important]). The self-care plan will contain signals of yourself when you are in distress and a list of activities that you could do to de-stress. You will have to consider time and location required for each activity and make sure to include activities that need different lengths of time and could be done in different settings. A self-care plan template can be found at the end of the syllabus (Appendix 2).
- o Part II Self-Care Journal: During our class, you will keep a journal that records your emotional responses to class readings, class content and experiences, as well as how you carry out self-care plan to manage your responses. You will modify your self-care plan as you gain more understandings of what works for you and what does not. At the end, you will submit a self-care journal, which contains: a) A modified version of self-care plan (make sure you mark what has been changed) (5 points); b) A log of at least 5 entries of emotional reactions toward class readings, content, experiences, and assignments as well as self-care activities that you did (5 points); c) 2-3 paragraphs of new awareness and learning about self-care you gained throughout this semester (5 points). The Self-Care Journal template can be found at the end of the syllabus (Appendix 3). The Self-Care Journal is due Sunday July 31st by 11:59 PM [important]).
- Trauma and Recovery Small Group Discussion Boards (50 points each 100 points total)

This assignment has 2 parts. During weeks 4 and 10, you will be asked to reflect on and respond to Herman's Trauma and Recovery text. For week 4 you should have read and be ready to reflect on Part I (Traumatic Disorders) minus Chapter 5 (Child Abuse) and for week 10 you should have read and be ready to reflect on Part II (Stages of Recovery) minus Chapter 11 (Commonality). You will be placed into small groups (no more than 5 members) and each of you will record an initial reflection/reaction to the text (3-5 minutes) via Flipgrid and then individually you will respond to each other's post (2-3 minutes). The original poster must respond to each member's comment on their original post.

A complete grading rubric for this assignment can be found at the end of this syllabus (Appendix 4). You will have to complete each discussion thread by the deadline (Part I is due Sunday, June 5th by 11:59PM, and Part II is due Sunday, July 17th by 11:59PM [important])

• Trauma Specialty Project (100 points total)

A central goal of this course is that the student begins to become comfortable with the practice and process of trauma work. To facilitate that goal, you will prepare a project to demonstrate your expertise in one specialty area of trauma counseling. Trauma topics: Combat related trauma, Refugee related trauma (people fleeing war torn countries), sexual abuse (family), sexual abuse (non-family), intimate partner violence, school shootings, Natural Disasters (Hurricanes, Floods, Wild Fires, Earthquakes), Childhood Trauma, Elderly Abuse, Compassion Fatigue, Mass Shootings (ex. Public shootings where average citizens are shot and/or killed), First Responder Trauma, Murders, etc. The types of projects include ONE of the 3 options below. You have 2 weeks to make your decision. Email me at rgrad@uttyler.edu by 5/22/2021 and mention which project you are choosing to do.

- Conference Proposal/Presentation. You will propose and prepare a conference level education session that is to be of professional conference caliber. Your proposal/session will focus on the effects of trauma and a specialized population of your choice. The assignment will be divided into three parts: (1) the proposal (50 points, week 5), (2) the presentation (40 points, week 9), and (3) a resource handout for conference participants (10 points, week 13). A grading rubric for each part of this assignment can be found at the end of syllabus (Appendix 5, 6, and 7).
- o Trauma Research Paper. A 12-15 pages research paper reviewing the clinical and research literature on a specialty area of trauma counseling (see potential topics below). Your paper will focus on the effects of this specific trauma topic and specialized population of your choice. You must include a minimum of 10 references related to your topic (journal articles, books, etc.). Your paper will follow APA guidelines and will consist of a title page, abstract/key words, body (12-15 pages of body), and references. Students will provide a comprehensive literature review on the specific trauma and/or stressor-related event. The literature review will include reports of contemporary treatment strategies with a presentation of effectiveness of these strategies, and it should describe the current practices that have been shown to have efficacy in dealing with the trauma experience being described. A grading rubric for this research paper can be found at the end of syllabus (Appendix 8).
- Student produced video or training manual of instruction on how to conduct a specific type of Trauma intervention. A grading rubric for the video or training manual can be found at the end of syllabus (Appendix 9).

I want to give students the freedom of expression in meeting this course requirement, as long as your completed project demonstrates your acquisition of competency in one trauma specialty area. You are strongly encouraged to choose a marginalized population that you either work with/want to work with in the future. I highly encourage the students to take risks and have fun while approaching this part of the course. I also highly encourage students to talk with the instructor prior to beginning of the project. The Trauma Specialty Project is due Sunday July 31st by 11:59 PM [important]).

Evaluation/Grading

The due dates for all assignment are listed in the Syllabus and on Canvas and must be completed by the date and time listed. You should plan to work on your assignments around your life and submit them earlier in the week if need be. All assignments coming in any time after their due date/time will be reduced by 10% per day they are late. NO assignment will be accepted if submitted more than 4 days past due date.

Often time students wonder what constitutes a particular grade in the courses I teach. From my perspective, if a student has completed standard, average work on an assignment, then the work will receive a "B". A grade of "A" denotes exceptional work beyond the basic and/or minimal expectation.

Since this is graduate level work, it is expected that students will hand in papers that are grammatically correct, have correct spelling, and conform to the APA 7th edition guidelines. Since APA 7th edition was recently introduced, I will accept papers that follow APA 6th edition guidelines. Do not, repeat, do not write papers as if talking to me, using common figures of speech. Writing is NOT talking and it takes practice, patience, and intentionality to break this habit. On each written assignment I will deduct points from the final score based on writing and composition skills, and APA formatting. If you believe there are weak areas for you, please utilize the University Writing Center as they are more than prepared to help you with writing, composition, and research skills.

A grade of I (incomplete) is discouraged and is assigned at the discretion of the instructor, when illness, death in the immediate family, or other unusual and unforeseeable circumstances not encountered by the other students in the class prevent completion of the course requirements by the end of the semester (per UT Tyler Graduate School Guidelines). Under these circumstances, a grade of I may be assigned when all of the following conditions are met: (a) the student has been making satisfactory progress in the course; (b) the student is unable to complete all course work or final exam due to unusual circumstances that are beyond personal control and are acceptable to the instructor; and (c) the student presents these reasons prior to the time that the final grade roster is due. The semester credit hours for an Incomplete will not be used to calculate the grade point average for a student.

Final grades will be available on or after the date designated by the University. Please do not send grade inquiries to the professor before this date. Any assignments or exams kept by the instructor will be retained until the last day of classes in the following semester, after which they will be shredded.

Professional Disposition Assessment

Professional disposition is an integral component of the course. The systematic assessment of students is required by CACREP (2016) Section 4.G; 4.H and ACA Code of Ethics (2014) Section F.9: F.9.a; F.9.b. The assessment is completed by the instructor based on the criteria in the table below and shown on the Final Grade Sheet. The Professional Dispositions component is not calculated in the final grade; however, the assessment is (1) part of the CMHC Committee's systematic student review and (2) will be included in the students' academic file.

The mission of the CACREP-Accredited Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) program at the University of Texas at Tyler (UTT) is to prepare ethical and competent professional counselors. The CMHC program places a strong emphasis on preparing future counselors to work with a diverse range of client populations. Faculty members collectively aim to provide a rigorous learning environment and supportive atmosphere encouraging personal and professional development to a diverse student body. Grade Replacement/Forgiveness and Census Date Policies

Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar. Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date (May 23rd 2022) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a "W" grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through

Financial Aid State-Mandated Course Drop Policy

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purpose of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census (See Academic Calendar for the specific date). Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

Student Absence Due to Religious Observance

Students who anticipate being absent from class due to a religious observance are requested to inform the instructor of such absences by the second-class meeting of the semester.

Student Absence for University-Sponsored Events and Activities

If you intend to be absent for a university-sponsored event or activity, you (or the event sponsor) must notify the instructor at least two weeks prior to the date of the planned absence. At that time the instructor will set a date and time when make-up assignments will be completed.

Social Security and FERPA Statement

It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.

Emergency Exits and Evacuation

Everyone is required to exit the building when a fire alarm goes off. Follow your instructor's directions regarding the appropriate exit. If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class. Do not reenter the building unless given permission by University Police, Fire department, or Fire Prevention Services.
