INFORMED CONSENT STATEMENT FOR COUNSELING COURSES

Faculty members are dedicated to the educational, personal, and professional growth and development of our students. Faculty members are in a unique position as both instructors who assess students' academic skills and members of the counseling profession with an ethical obligation to the profession. In both of these roles, it is the faculty's responsibility to evaluate student competencies within the realm of professional counseling and to address any concerns regarding students' professional competence. As such please be aware of the following information regarding this course: 1. The counseling profession encourages that counselors fully integrate their own personal attributes and identity, as well as their strengths and weaknesses, into therapeutic processes. Therefore, self-awareness is critical because this knowledge relates to being an effective therapist.

2. There will be an emphasis in many courses on self-awareness/exploration, as well as giving feedback to peers. Although uncomfortable at times, we encourage students to be open to self-exploration, since we frequently ask clients to do so.
3. At times, class may include experiential and self-awareness exercises. It is important to distinguish between sharing one's emotional reactions to such experiential class activities and revealing information about one's personal history. Self-disclosure of personal history is not required in order to successfully pass any course; however, students may be expected to share their reactions to experiential activities.
4. Self-disclosures will not be used as a basis for grading in any course. However, should a student disclose information indicating impairment or the potential for harm to clients, the faculty member may take appropriate action in accordance with the ACA Code of Ethics (2014).

5. Students often experience personal growth as they progress through the program. However, the courses are not meant to be a means of personal therapy. The focus in classes is on self-awareness and the enhancement and growth of necessary counselor skills.
6. Please be aware that, although all instructors strive to create a safe environment for any personal disclosures, we cannot guarantee that other students will maintain the confidentiality of any such disclosures that are made.
7. It is each student's responsibility to determine an appropriate level of self-disclosure (i.e. the content and depth of personal information that you share) in experiential learning activities.

PSYCHOLOGY AND COUNSELING RETENTION POLICY

Faculty, training staff, supervisors, and administrators of the Psychology and Counseling graduate programs at the University of Texas at Tyler have a professional, ethical, and potentially legal obligation to: (a) establish criteria and methods through which aspects of competence other than, and in addition to, a student-trainee's knowledge or skills may be assessed (including, but not limited to, emotional stability and well-being, interpersonal skills, professional development, and personal fitness for practice); and, (b) ensure, insofar as possible, that the student-trainees who complete our programs are competent to manage future relationships (e.g., client, collegial, professional, public, scholarly, supervisory, teaching) in an effective and appropriate manner. Because of this commitment, and within the parameters of our administrative authority, our faculty, training staff, supervisors, and administrators strive not to advance, recommend, or graduate students or trainees with demonstrable problems (e.g., cognitive, emotional, psychological, interpersonal, technical, and ethical) that may interfere with professional competence to other programs, the profession, employers, or the public at large.

As such, within a developmental framework, and with due regard for the inherent power difference between students and faculty, students and trainees should know that the faculty, training staff, and supervisors of our programs will evaluate their competence in areas other than, and in addition to, coursework, seminars, scholarship, or related program requirements. These evaluative areas include, but are not limited to, demonstration of sufficient: (a) interpersonal and professional competence (e.g., the ways in which student trainees relate to clients, peers, faculty, allied professionals, the public, and individuals from diverse backgrounds or histories); (b) self-awareness, self-reflection, and self-evaluation (e.g., knowledge of the content and potential impact of one's own beliefs and values on clients, peers, faculty, allied professionals, the public, and individuals from diverse backgrounds or histories); (c) openness to processes of supervision (e.g., the ability and willingness to explore issues that either interfere with the appropriate provision of care or impede professional development or functioning); and (d) resolution of issues or problems that interfere with professional development or functioning in a satisfactory manner (e.g., by responding constructively to feedback from supervisors or program faculty; by the successful completion of remediation plans; by participating in personal counseling/therapy in order to resolve issues or problems). [Adapted from the Comprehensive Evaluation of Student-Trainee Competence in Professional Psychology Programs statement developed by the Student Competence Task Force of the APA Council of Chairs of Training Councils (CCTC), (<http://www.apa.org/ed/graduate/cctc.html>), approved March 25, 2004 (2012-2014 Graduate Catalog).

EVALUATING STUDENT FITNESS AND PERFORMANCE

Members of the faculty, using professional judgment, continuously evaluate each student's fitness and performance. Students receive information related to their fitness and performance from faculty members, their advisors, and their supervisors. The criteria used by the faculty to make such judgments include instructor's observations of course performance, evaluations of students' performances in simulated practice situations, supervisors' evaluations of students' performances in practice situations, and the disciplines' codes of ethics. Students are formally evaluated at least annually by the program faculty. Detailed information about procedures for student evaluations, progress review, retention, and for addressing concerns about student progress are available at the department website: <http://www.uttyler.edu/psychology/>.

Students who are not making satisfactory progress or who are not meeting program standards should consider withdrawing from the program. In this context, the term "unsatisfactory progress in the program" refers to an academic judgment made regarding the student's fitness and performance. It is a determination that the student has failed to meet academic and/or professional standards.

OTHER

Students are strongly encouraged to read The University of Texas at Tyler's Graduate Catalog especially regarding issues such as academic grievance, plagiarism and cheating, etc. The policies stipulated in the catalog will be strictly enforced.

Each semester's Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

1. Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail, or Credit/No Credit.
2. Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date.)

Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (See the Academic Calendar for the specific date.) Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Internship Services Distribution

Direct Services

Direct hours are comprised of time spent in direct contact with clients in a counseling situation. This includes family sessions, group sessions, individual sessions, etc. Specific examples of direct hours include face-to-face:

- Work with individuals (IND)
 - Individual counseling
 - Intake interviews with clients – intake interview, psychosocial history, etc. with client and/or family
 - Marriage, family, couples counseling
 - Sessions with parents on a student's behalf
 - Career counseling
 - Co-counseling
 - Face-to-face student scheduling
 - Psychological testing – suicide assessments, etc., but not academic/placement testing
- Work with groups (GRP)
 - Group counseling – counseling interaction with two or more clients with a specific goal or mutual direction
 - Any of the IND activities conducted in group settings
- Work in group guidance (GG)
 - Classroom guidance, character development, and psychoeducation
- Consultation with other professionals (CON)
 - Case consultation with appropriate professionals related to the review of or progress towards goal achievement
- Other activities as approved by your University supervisor prior to the activity taking place

Indirect Services

Indirect hours consist of time spent preparing for or processing after delivery of clinical services, as well as supervision. Indirect contact includes:

- Case Notes – Preparation of case notes for client files
- Session Preparation – Session preparation may include creating activities for clients, locating credible resources, preparing homework assignments, etc.
- Workshops/trainings related to clinical work
- Testing/Assessment – all non-psychological testing
- On the job training
- Shadowing
- Research and readings as it relates to internship duties
- Professional presentations
- Other activities related to client services that are relevant to internship duties
- Other activities as approved by your University supervisor prior to the activity taking place

Remember: Time that is spent engaged in the role of a professional counselor is allowable and should be recorded on both the weekly log and the semester summary log. For the purposes of internship logs, time is recorded in 15-minute increments (quarter-hours). Thus, each activity takes a minimum of .25 hours, though the total time recorded for a day should not exceed the actual number of clock-hours spent in a counseling role. Students are expected to demonstrate honesty and integrity when reporting their hours. Both students and their site supervisors sign the weekly logs verifying the hours accrued for the week. These logs are then submitted to the university supervisor and are placed in students' files. All time spent acting in the role of a counselor should be counted. When in doubt, check with your site or university supervisor. Students who fulfill their clock-hour requirements before the end of the semester are obligated to remain at their internship site and to continue recording clock-hours until the end of the university semester.

Supervision

Supervision hours consist of time spent processing cases with a supervisor. Supervision includes:

- The required one hour each week with your site supervisor
- The hour and a half of class time each week
- Individual conferences with your university supervisor or university faculty regarding a client-related situation

The time spent toward with your site supervisor and in group supervision (class) counts toward your indirect hour totals and your overall 200 hours.

Hours That Do Not Count as Direct or Indirect Hours

While potentially related to your educational experience and preparation as a counselor, these activities are not directly related to your practicum and/or internship duties, and therefore do not count as direct or indirect services, nor towards your required hours.

- Travel to and from your site
- Time spent engaged in class work
- Time spent in any class other than COUN 5386

Reflections

Reflection 1

Reflect upon your experiences in the counseling program to date. In what ways do you feel well prepared for this internship? In what areas do you feel you need more training or more experience? What are your impressions, thoughts, and emotions as you prepare to see clients in this setting? What do you hope to gain from this internship?

The assignment should take between 1½ and 2 pages of content. Feel free to write more, but do not write less than 1½ pages of content in proper APA 6 style. Please also include a title page.

Reflection 2

As the semester draws to a close, reflect upon your experiences at your site. What did you gain this semester? What did you discover about yourself? Case Presentation Format

Client: (“name”; use a pseudonym)

Age:

Gender:

Race:

Session #:

Anticipated Sessions:

Presenting Problem: Describe why the client is seeking or referred for counseling. Briefly describe your initial assessment including client presentation (affect, mood, level of functioning, etc.), complaints, and clinical impressions. This should include symptoms (what they are, frequency, and duration). Is the client currently taking medication; if so, what is it and what is it for? Be sure and address level of intellectual functioning or alcohol and drug history if applicable.

Family History: Describe family of origin and family of creation (where appropriate) including current living situation. Describe client resources and support systems.

Assessment Instruments: Include a list (3 minimum) of assessment instruments that you would like to use with this client or the clients family. Remember you can use the Mental Measurements Yearbook to help you decide on assessments. Describe why you might consider this assessment, are there any cultural considerations around this assessment, and what impressions that you may confirm or discard as a result of using the assessment. If you have an opportunity to use an assessment with the permission and supervision of your site supervisor, include the assessment and your interpretation of it. Remember that you cannot ask a client to do an assessment without giving the client feedback.

Diagnostic Impression: What is this client’s diagnosis or what is your impression of a diagnosis that is appropriate for this client? Why is this diagnosis appropriate? If more than one diagnosis should be ruled in or out explain what they are and how you will know if the criteria are met.

Clinical Focus: Describe your focus of clinical attention, what will you treat first, including specific interventions and rationale. Will this client be on any psychotropic medications? If so, what are they? What are your treatment goals?

Professional Consultation: Discuss this case with at least two counseling-related professionals. Describe who you consulted with and how these consults have affected your treatment plan. What were the suggestions and why are you choosing to implement them?

Anticipated Results: Describe what you reasonably expect from your treatment interventions (What are you looking for to know if this client is improving?)

Note: Remember that you are directing this case presentation and will be evaluated on the following:

- Preparation for case study
- Presentation materials (completeness)
- Group facilitation skills

General Notes Related to Case Studies

- A case study is a synopsis of a client and your treatment of that client. Include only information which has bearing on the case or is consistent with established reporting procedures (i.e. family history, behavioral observations).
- Be as thorough as possible while being succinct. Often, you will have only a few minutes to paint a picture of the client for the staffing team. What you present and how you choose to present it will affect their understanding of the client.
- Consider what points need to be emphasized in your oral presentation. Placing an emphasis on one area (family) while underemphasizing something that was equally important during the clinical interview (medical history) will skew the treatment team's interpretation of the case.

Consent for Electronic Observation

Dear Student and Parent(s)/Guardian(s):

Thank you for working with a counselor-in-training from The University of Texas at Tyler. These counselors-in-training are supervised by both an experienced counselor employed by the school district and an appropriately qualified, credentialed counseling faculty member employed by the university.

In Texas, state law requires the observation of each trainee by an appropriately qualified, credentialed university employee. To facilitate this process, the university employee (faculty member) observes counseling sessions in real-time via webcam transmission, using a secure program licensed by the university. This is not a recording, and there is no audio- or video-taping of the activity. The university faculty member watches the session as it takes place.

To protect the confidentiality of the students participating in these observed sessions, the webcam is focused on the counselor-in-training. No student is shown on the webcam. Students are heard but not seen.
