V. COURSE REQUIREMENTS, POLICIES, AND EVALUATION PROCEDURES:

- a. Course Requirements: Students are expected to participate in all class assignments and activities.

- b. Attendance and Participation: Students are expected to attend class by checking in online at least once a week to listen to lectures, complete assigned quizzes, and participate in class discussion. Be aware that participation in this class is much more than simply responding to a discussion question. You will be expected to post thoughtful questions and responses and interact with your instructor and classmates.
- c. Assignments: All assignments for this course must be original work and reflect graduate-level presentation, including APA format, correct spelling, and appropriate punctuation and grammar. Everything you submit should be typed, double-spaced, have one-inch margins, and have your name on it.

Policy Regarding Late Assignments: Assignments will be considered late if not submitted on Canvas on the date specified. Late work will result in a reduction of points (10% per day past the due date). Late work will not be accepted after 48 hours past the due date. Contact the instructor as soon as possible if you will not be able to turn in your assignments on time.

All assignments will be due according to the course calendar located on the last page of this document and on Canvas.

1. Weekly Discussion Posts (10 pts each/140 pts total)

Students will participate in weekly discussion posts where we will assess your participation as if you were in a regular in-person class. You are expected to be an active and engaged member of the class through the discussion posts. You will create an initial post in order to respond to the discussion prompt. Initial posts must be created by Wednesday at 11:59pm each week. Following your initial post responding to the prompt, you must comment on at least two other students' posts to facilitate further exploration. Responding comments must be completed by Saturday at 11:59pm.

In order to earn the maximum number of points, posts must be thoughtful and well-composed, spelled correctly, utilize proper grammar, contribute the conversation in a meaningful way (do not simply repeat what others have said; ex. – make a new point, provide new information and ideas, ask an insightful question).

Misuse of the discussion board will not be tolerated.

2. Quizzes (10 pts each/100 pts total)

Students will complete quizzes based on the assigned readings from the Reichenberg and Seligman (2016) text. Your lowest scoring quiz will be dropped. Quizzes must be completed by Saturday at 11:59pm on the week in which they are due. See Course Schedule for due dates.

3. Case Studies/Client Maps (25 pts each/100 total)

Students will complete 4 case studies through this course. Case studies will be presented in Canvas. Students must utilize knowledge gained through the Reichenberg & Seligman text as well as the DSM-5 in order to provide appropriate diagnoses and client maps for the clients described. One or more diagnoses may be applicable to each case. Students must be prepared to justify diagnoses and client maps in order to receive full credit. Diagnoses and client maps are due by Saturday at 11:59pm on the week in which they are due. See Course Schedule for specific due dates and see pp. 3-26 of Reichenberg & Seligman (2016) for more information on how to complete a client map (i.e., DO A CLIENT MAP).

4. Final Paper (50 pts)

Students will write a 3-5 page reflection paper on mental health in schools, the role of the school counselor, and thoughts, concerns, etc. about your future as a school counselor.

Although this assignment is not intended to be a research paper, students must use at least 3 outside resources. The paper must follow current APA guidelines and include a cover page and reference pages, not considered in the 3-5 page requirement. Papers will be graded on content, organization, writing skill, grammar, and APA-style adherence. The paper is due by Tuesday, December 6th at 11:59pm.

- c. Diversity: Case studies and other examples inherent in this course will approach counseling from a diverse cultural perspective. Sensitivity to gender/race/ethnicity/disability/sexuality is expected and disrespectful language and/or behavior will not be tolerated.
- d. Online Communication: All written communication that takes place within this course must adhere to the rules of written etiquette. Please remember that you are in a graduate program and are earning a professional degree, therefore respond to your instructor and your colleagues in a professional matter. Please refrain from using texting language (i.e. lol, btw, omg) and/or emoticons (i.e. (:- / ,;-)) in your discussion responses and in communication with your instructor and colleagues. Other things to keep in mind:

- Please refrain from sending junk mail, forwards, or advertisements to the class via Canvas.

VII. DEPARTMENTAL POLICIES

- Vision: The College of Education and Psychology is nationally recognized and respected for its academic programs and opportunities. It is a center of academic excellence, scholarly inquiry, and public service. The College prepares leaders to meet the critical challenges of the 21st Century, to make significant contributions to local and global communities, and to work toward individual and cultural equity.
- Mission: The mission of the College of Education and Psychology is to provide a positive environment that fosters the acquisition of knowledge and skills. The mission is individually and collectively realized through a community of scholars that contributes to knowledge through scholarly inquiry; organizes knowledge for application, understanding and communication; and provides leadership and service. Additionally, the College is committed to affirming and promoting global perspectives, cultural diversity, and respect for individual differences as a means of enhancing learning, service, and scholarship.
- Informed Consent Statement for Counseling Services: Faculty members are dedicated to the educational, personal, and professional growth and development of our students. Faculty members are in a unique position as both instructors who assess students' academic skills and members of the counseling profession with an ethical obligation to the profession. In both of these roles, it is the faculty's responsibility to evaluate student competencies within the realm of professional counseling and to address any concerns regarding students' professional competence. As such please be aware of the following information regarding this course:
 - The counseling profession encourages that counselors fully integrate their own personal attributes and identity, as well as their strengths and weaknesses, into therapeutic processes. Therefore, self-awareness is critical because this knowledge relates to being an effective therapist.
 - There will be an emphasis in many courses on self-awareness/exploration, as well as giving feedback to peers. Although uncomfortable at times, we encourage students to be open to self-exploration, since we frequently ask clients to do so.
 - At times, class may include experiential and self-awareness exercises. It is important to distinguish between sharing one's emotional reactions to such experiential class activities and revealing information about one's personal history. Self-disclosure of personal history is not required in order to successfully pass any course; however, students may be expected to share their reactions to experiential activities.
 - Self-disclosures will not be used as a basis for grading in any course. However, should a student disclose information indicating impairment or the potential for harm to clients, the faculty member may take appropriate action in accordance with the ACA Code of Ethics (2014).
 - Students often experience personal growth as they progress through the program. However, the courses are not meant to be a means of personal therapy. The focus in classes is on self-awareness and the enhancement and growth of necessary counselor skills.

- Please be aware that, although all instructors strive to create a safe environment for any personal disclosures, we cannot guarantee that other students will maintain the confidentiality of any such disclosures that are made.
- It is each student's responsibility to determine an appropriate level of self-disclosure (i.e. the content and depth of personal information that you share) in experiential learning activities.

d. Psychology and Counseling Retention Policy: Faculty, training staff, supervisors, and administrators of the Psychology and Counseling graduate programs at the University of Texas at Tyler have a professional, ethical, and potentially legal obligation to: (a) establish criteria and methods through which aspects of competence other than, and in addition to, a student-trainee's knowledge or skills may be assessed (including, but not limited to, emotional stability and well-being, interpersonal skills, professional development, and personal fitness for practice); and, (b) ensure, insofar as possible, that the student-trainees who complete our programs are competent to manage future relationships (e.g., client, collegial, professional, public, scholarly, supervisory, teaching) in an effective and appropriate manner. Because of this commitment, and within the parameters of our administrative authority, our faculty, training staff, supervisors, and administrators strive not to advance, recommend, or graduate students or trainees with demonstrable problems (e.g., cognitive, emotional, psychological, interpersonal, technical, and ethical) that may interfere with professional competence to other programs, the profession, employers, or the public at large.

As such, within a developmental framework, and with due regard for the inherent power difference between students and faculty, students and trainees should know that the faculty, training staff, and supervisors of our programs will evaluate their competence in areas other than, and in addition to, coursework, seminars, scholarship, or related program requirements. These evaluative areas include, but are not limited to, demonstration of sufficient: (a) interpersonal and professional competence (e.g., the ways in which student trainees relate to clients, peers, faculty, allied professionals, the public, and individuals from diverse backgrounds or histories); (b) self-awareness, self-reflection, and self-evaluation (e.g., knowledge of the content and potential impact of one's own beliefs and values on clients, peers, faculty, allied professionals, the public, and individuals from diverse backgrounds or histories); (c) openness to processes of supervision (e.g., the ability and willingness to explore issues that either interfere with the appropriate provision of care or impede professional development or functioning); and (d) resolution of issues or problems that interfere with professional development or functioning in a satisfactory manner (e.g., by responding constructively to feedback from supervisors or program faculty; by the successful completion of remediation plans; by participating in personal counseling/therapy in order to resolve issues or problems). [Adapted from the Comprehensive Evaluation of Student-Trainee Competence in Professional Psychology Programs statement developed by the Student Competence Task Force of the APA Council of Chairs of Training Councils (CCTC), (<http://www.apa.org/ed/graduate/cctc.html>), approved March 25, 2004. (2012-2014 Graduate Catalog)

Evaluating Student Fitness and Performance

Members of the faculty, using professional judgment, continuously evaluate each student's fitness and performance. Students receive information related to their fitness and performance from faculty members, their advisors, and their supervisors. The criteria used by the faculty to make such judgments include instructor's observations of course performance, evaluations of students' performances in simulated practice situations, supervisors' evaluations of students' performances in practice situations, and the disciplines' codes of ethics. Students are formally evaluated at least annually by the program faculty. Detailed information about procedures for student evaluations, progress review, retention, and for addressing concerns about student progress are available at the department website: <http://www.uttyler.edu/psychology/>. Students who are not making satisfactory progress or who are not meeting program standards should consider withdrawing from the program. In this context, the term “unsatisfactory progress in the program” refers to an academic judgment made regarding the student’s fitness and performance. It is a determination that the student has failed to meet academic and/or professional standards.

- e. Grade Replacement/Forgiveness Census Date Policies: Students repeating a course for grade forgiveness (grade replacement) must file a Grade Replacement Contract with the Enrollment Services Center (ADM 230) on or before the Census Date of the semester in which the course will be repeated. (Census Date is typically the 12th class day. For Fall 2019, the Census Date is Sept. 9th.) Grade Replacement Contracts are available in the Enrollment Services Center or at <http://www.uttyler.edu/registrar>. Each semester’s Census Date can be found on the Contract itself, on the Academic Calendar, or in the information pamphlets published each semester by the Office of the Registrar.

Failure to file a Grade Replacement Contract will result in both the original and repeated grade being used to calculate your overall grade point average. Undergraduates are eligible to exercise grade replacement for only three course repeats during their career at UT Tyler; graduates are eligible for two grade replacements. Full policy details are printed on each Grade Replacement Contract.

The Census Date (Sept. 9th for the Fall 2019 semester) is the deadline for many forms and enrollment actions of which students need to be aware. These include:

- Submitting Grade Replacement Contracts, Transient Forms, requests to withhold directory information, approvals for taking courses as Audit, Pass/Fail or Credit/No Credit.
- Receiving 100% refunds for partial withdrawals. (There is no refund for these after the Census Date)
- Schedule adjustments (section changes, adding a new class, dropping without a “W” grade)
- Being reinstated or re-enrolled in classes after being dropped for non-payment
- Completing the process for tuition exemptions or waivers through Financial Aid

- f. State-Mandated Course Drop Policy: Texas law prohibits a student who began college for the first time in Fall 2007 or thereafter from dropping more than six courses during their entire undergraduate career. This includes courses dropped at another 2-year or 4-year Texas public college or university. For purposes of this rule, a dropped course is any course that is dropped after the census date (typically the 12th class day; January 28th for Spring 2019; See Academic Calendar for the specific date in other semesters).

Exceptions to the 6-drop rule may be found in the catalog. Petitions for exemptions must be submitted to the Enrollment Services Center and must be accompanied by documentation of the extenuating circumstance. Please contact the Enrollment Services Center if you have any questions.

- g. Disability/Accessibility Services: In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA) the University of Texas at Tyler offers accommodations to students with learning, physical and/or psychological disabilities. - i. Student Absence for University-Sponsored Events and Activities: If you intend to be absent for a university-sponsored event or activity, you (or the event sponsor) must notify the instructor at least two weeks prior to the date of the planned absence. At that time the instructor will set a date and time when make-up assignments will be completed.
- j. Social Security and FERPA Statement: It is the policy of The University of Texas at Tyler to protect the confidential nature of social security numbers. The University has changed its computer programming so that all students have an identification number. The electronic transmission of grades (e.g., via e-mail) risks violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act; grades will not be transmitted electronically.

- k. Emergency Exits and Evacuation: Everyone is required to exit the building when a fire alarm goes off. Follow your instructor's directions regarding the appropriate exit. If you require assistance during an evacuation, inform your instructor in the first week of class. Do not re-enter the building unless given permission by University Police, Fire department, or Fire Prevention Services.
- l. Student Standards of Academic Conduct: Disciplinary proceedings may be initiated against any student who engages in scholastic dishonesty, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.
