- Identify and explain the impact/interaction between genes and environment on development.
- Describe factors that may affect development at different stages of life.
- Identify the main stages of prenatal development and the process of birth.
- Identify and explain the primary biological, cognitive, and psychosocial changes that occur during infancy, early childhood, middle childhood, adolescence, emerging adulthood, adulthood, and late adulthood.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how cultural differences can impact development.
- Demonstrate the ability to apply developmental research to current social issues.

REQUIRED TEXT

Kathleen Stassen Berger: Invitation to the Life Span, 5th Edition, Worth Publishers, 2022.
ISBN:9781319331986

NOTE: A student at UT-Tyler is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from a university affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer.

TEACHING STRATEGIES

My main objective in this class is to help you learn the class material. I believe that attending class, taking good notes, and reading the textbook is important for you to succeed. I will try to cover one chapter per week; however, some weeks we will need to cover more. I lecture primarily from the textbook, but I will supplement with other materials such as short videos, group discussions, guest speakers, and in-class activities. Successful students read the textbook and study! Class attendance is strongly encouraged.

EVALUATION AND GRADING

Exams 300 points – 3 exams, worth 100 points each

Quizzes 100 points – 4 quizzes, worth 25 points each

Cumulative Final 100 points –worth 100 points

Total Possible Points 500 points

Research credits do not add to your point total; however, if you do not complete them, you will lose 50 points from your final grade. Essentially, failure to complete them will drop you an entire letter grade. Extra credit points will be added to your overall point total at the end of the semester.

GRADE ASSIGNMENT

A = 450 – 500 points

B = 400 – 449 points

C = 350 – 399 points

D = 300 – 349 points

F = 299 points or below

In order to calculate your grade, keep track of the number of points you accumulate throughout the semester. Grades will be assigned based on the point distribution listed above.

EXAMS

There will be 3 multiple choice exams given during the semester. Each exam is worth 100 points. Scantrons will be provided by the psychology department. Tests will cover information from lectures and textbook readings.

The exams are worth a total of 300 points.

Tentative Exam Dates:

September 22, 2022 – Chapters 1-4

October 27, 2022– Chapters 5-10

December 1, 2022– Chapters 11-15

Exams will most likely be administered on these dates, but these dates are subject to change at the instructor's discretion. There is a possibility that material covered on each exam will change depending on the amount of material covered each week. It is the instructor's discretion to make changes to exam dates and/or material covered as the semester progresses.*

QUIZZES

There will be 4 quizzes throughout the semester. Each quiz is worth 25 points. The quiz questions will be short-answer, multiple-choice, true/false, and short essay format. They will be administered at the very beginning of class. You will have approximately 10-15 minutes to take the quiz. If you arrive late, you will only have the remaining time allotted to complete the quiz. The quizzes will cover the portion of the chapter(s) covered during the previous week. The quizzes are worth a total of 100 points.

Tentative Quiz Dates:

September 8, 2022

October 6, 2022

October 20, 2022

November 10, 2022

Quizzes will most likely be administered on these dates, but these dates are subject to change at the instructor's discretion. There is a possibility that material covered on each quiz will change depending on the amount of material covered each week. It is the instructor's discretion to make changes to quiz dates and/or material covered as the semester progresses.*

CUMULATIVE FINAL EXAM

There will be a cumulative final exam on December 8, 2022. The final is worth 100 points. It will be multiple choice questions, covering all chapters (1-15) from your textbook. The final will also include questions from the epilogue. I will not lecture on the epilogue. Students are responsible for covering this material on their own prior to the final exam.

EXTRA CREDIT OPTIONS

If you wish to earn bonus points toward your final point total, you may choose to participate in one or more of the following:

1. Perfect Attendance:

I will take attendance EACH class IN PERSON. In order to track bonus points, students sign a roster at the END of class to indicate that they were present. Students that maintain PERFECT attendance during the semester will have 10 bonus points added to your overall point-total for the semester. Perfect attendance means that you stayed until the end of EVERY class.

If you miss 0 times = 10 points

If you miss 1 time = 5 points

If you miss 2 times or more = 0 points

I do not "excuse" absences for this bonus exercise. It is an all or nothing policy. I understand that situations, such as illness or funerals, do occur. However, perfect attendance means that you missed NO class for any reason. Maximum of 10 bonus points for this option.

2. Participation in Counseling with Graduate Students:

Students may volunteer to participate in counseling with graduate students in the psychology department. You will be given 1 point for each session that you attend. Each session is approximately 1 hour. Maximum of 10 bonus points for this option.

3. Other Extra Credit Assignments:

I may offer other extra credit opportunities such as volunteering, attending certain events, or watching documentary films. If I do offer any, they will be announced in class and posted on Canvas.

UT TYLER PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT RESEARCH REQUIREMENT

The Psychology Department requires that all students taking 1000- and 2000-level psychology courses to complete a research requirement.

This is a requirement for the psychology department, not for this class specifically. It does not contribute to points, but will result in a reduction of 50 points if you do not complete it. ***

There are two ways to fulfill the requirement:

1. You may complete research credits by participating in psychology studies. A credit is earned for every 30 minutes of research participation. Most studies are 30 minutes long or less, so most studies will count as 1 credit. If the study is longer than 30 minutes, you will receive 2 credits. The number of credits required varies from one course to the next, and your instructor will tell you how many credits are required to complete the research requirement in his or her specific course. This course requires 6 research credits to be obtained during the semester (3 hours).

2. In lieu of the research participation, you may instead complete a 5-page research report on a topic concerning developmental psychology. The topic for the paper can be found in Canvas. You do the paper, you do NOT have to participate in psychology research on campus (option 1). This is merely another option for obtaining your 6 research credits. If your paper is acceptable, then you will receive your 6 credits. If it is not acceptable, you will be notified to revise and resubmit by the final deadline.

Due Date:

If you choose to complete the research participation, at least 3 of the credits must be submitted on or before October 14, 2022. Failure to do so will result in a 5% reduction to your final course grade (25 points). The remaining 3 credits needed to fulfill the requirement must be submitted on or before December 2, 2022. Failure to submit the remaining credits by this date will result in an additional 5% reduction to your final grade (25 points).

If you choose to complete the research paper, it must be submitted by December 2, 2022. There is a tab in Canvas with further instructions about this requirement.

COURSE POLICIES

1. Class Participation: Since this class is over 2 hours in length, it is much more fun and engaging when students participate. That being said, you do not have an actual participation "grade;" however, points may be added (or subtracted) based on your participation. For instance, if a student is within a few points of the next letter grade, participation, or lack thereof, may be a determining factor. In the same way, if you are inappropriate in class, make rude statements, or are disrespectful in any way to your classmates or the instructor, points may be subtracted from your grade, accordingly.
2. Attendance: Attendance is expected and required to be successful in this class. You will only be allowed to make-up a test in the event of an excused absence. Excused absences may include doctor's documented illness, death/funeral, religious observation, or UTT athletics from approved schedule, which pertains to athletes. All absences WILL REQUIRE an acceptable form of documentation to be considered "excused."
3. What If I miss an Exam or Quiz? If you miss class on an exam or quiz day, you MAY be allowed to make-up the exam or quiz. ALL make-up exams or quizzes require a documented, EXCUSED absence in order to receive a re-take. Make-up exams will be an alternate form of the original exam and will be taken during finals weeks. Make-up quizzes will have to be taken the week after the missed class. An excused absence is defined by the university policy and instructor's discretion as a documented illness, death/funeral, religious observation, or UTT athletics. Students MUST provide some form of appropriate documentation in order to make-up missed exams and quizzes. I DO NOT want you coming to class sick. If you feel sick, contact me and we will make arrangements for you
4. Texting, Social Media, and Appropriate Behavior: Please do not use the internet or text on your phone throughout class. Consistent use of social media during class lectures (i.e. laughing, being on your phone) may result in a reduction in points. Furthermore, any disruptions in class due to inappropriate behavior (i.e. talking during a lecture, inappropriate statements, discriminatory remarks, etc.), may also result in a reduction of points. If a student is consistently disrupting learning, they will be asked to leave and reported to the dean of student affairs.
