ACM Citation Style Guide (Association for Computing Machinery)

Overview: ACM style is prevalent in computer science and software engineering. It uses bracketed numbers for in-text citations, corresponding to a numbered reference list at the document's end.

In-Text Citations:

- Single reference: The algorithm achieved significant improvements [1].
- Multiple references: Similar approaches have been discussed [1], [3], [5].

References:

List all references in the order they appear in the text.

Formatting:

- Font: Times New Roman, 12 pt.
- Spacing: Single-space within entries; double-space between entries.
- Margins: 1-inch.
- Indentation: Hanging indent for references.

Disciplines Using ACM Style at UT Tyler:

- Graduate Soules College of Business: Computer Science M.S.
