

Guidelines for Preparation of Thesis or Dissertation

All theses and dissertations must conform to the policies and procedures set forth in these Guidelines and the current University Catalog. Forms and instructions can be found online at Thesis and Dissertation Center. Contact gradmanuscripts@uttyler.edu with questions regarding these policies and procedures. In addition, please note the following:

Submission and Review Requirements. You must indicate which citation style you are using when you submit your manuscript for review. You must include the reviewer's embedded comments when you submit your revisions.

Deadlines. It is the student's responsibility to meet all deadlines established and posted by your College, The Graduate School, and Registrar's Office. Students should work with their thesis/dissertation committee chair as deadlines near to ensure their availability for reviewing and approving the manuscript. To view deadline dates, see The Graduate School Calendar.

Projects. Students completing a master's project in lieu of a thesis should check with their advisor concerning the appropriate format. If the department or college does not specify a format for the project, then students must follow the thesis/dissertation format guidelines.

Manuscript Preparation. The following guidelines must be followed regardless of the style guideline/manual chosen. These guidelines ensure that all manuscripts prepared at The University of Texas at Tyler have a uniform and professional look.

The Multi-Paper/Portfolio Format may only be used with academic department permission. While the Graduate School strongly encourages publication of research results, students are reminded that preparation of a thesis/dissertation and preparation of a manuscript for publication are two separate operations. Certain mechanical stipulations for submitting manuscript copy to a publisher may differ from those specified by the Graduate School and may not be acceptable. The Graduate School requires that formatting must remain consistent in all chapters, since the dissertation submitted to The Graduate School is considered one manuscript. (Even for multiple article theses/dissertations).

Style and Format. Select a style manual or journal format established by your department or committee and consistently follow that style throughout the manuscript except where UT Tyler guidelines state otherwise. As researcher and author, the graduate student has full responsibility for the form and substance of the manuscript. Templates are available at Thesis and Dissertation Center.

Final Copies. No printed copies are required by The Graduate School. Check with your committee chair for departmental requirements regarding printed copies.
