Course Description: Students will prepare a written report/portfolio of their observations and experiences and prepare a poster or presentation of their findings to include citations of important literature.

Prerequisite: Completion of 24 credit hours in the MHA program and selection of option (traditional or project) approved by preceptor and program director.

An internship work plan and tentative schedule must be signed by the student, preceptor, and course instructor, and must be approved by the MHA program director prior to course registration.

Traditional Option

Students are required to successfully complete a semester long internship consisting of a minimum 135 hours as part of their mandatory requirements to meet graduation eligibility. The internship meets the requirement of 3 credit hours of experiential/immersive learning as designated in the program curriculum. Students will receive a real work experience in a health care environment and identify learning opportunities associated with collaboration and leadership. At the completion of the internship, the student will prepare a report and poster presentation identifying the skills and knowledge gained during the internship. Students will also be responsible for submitting 4 reflection journals during the semester which will become a part of the overall course evaluation.

Project Option

Students, in collaboration with their preceptor, are required to identify a management, technical or administrative task or problem(s) that can be completed while the student is interning in the health care organization. The project must be approved by the preceptor with the understanding of the time needed for completion must fall within the internship constraints of a minimum of 135 hours. At the conclusion of the internship the student will prepare a report and poster presentation describing the project(s) work. With the preceptor’s approval, the student will submit the report to the course instructor along with recommendation(s) pursuant to the resolution of said project(s). Students will also be responsible for submitting 4 reflection journals to faculty instructor during the semester which will be a part of the overall course evaluation.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLO or “course objective”): Upon successfully completing this course, the student will be able to:

1. Apply theoretical foundations to real world work environments.[PLO A]
2. Develop critical thinking skills applicable to administrative roles and responsibilities in health care environments. [PLO A, D]
3. Gain experience and knowledge of the daily operations for health care administrators. [PLO A]
4. Demonstrate the ability to work effectively as a member of a team with diverse backgrounds while modeling ethical behavior. [PLO B, C, D, E]
5. Gain exposure to the interrelationships and interdependencies within health care organizations and entities. [PLO C]

Academic Honesty:

- Any student who commits an act of scholastic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.

Cheating

- Dishonesty of any kind involving examinations, assignments, alteration of records, wrongful possession of examinations, and unpermitted submission of duplicate papers for multiple classes or unauthorized use of keys to examinations is considered cheating. Cheating includes but is not limited to:
 - Using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class.
 - Falsifying or inventing any information, including citations, on an assigned exercise.
 - Helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism.

Plagiarism

- Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Materials, even ideas, borrowed from others necessitate full and complete acknowledgment of the original authors. Offering the work of another as one's own is plagiarism and is unacceptable in the academic community. A lack of adequate recognition constitutes plagiarism, whether it utilizes a few sentences, whole paragraphs, articles, books, audio-visual materials, or even the writing of a fellow student. In addition, the presentation of material gathered, assembled or formatted by others as one's own is also plagiarism. Because the university takes such misconduct very seriously, the student is urged to carefully read university policies on Misconduct in Research and Other Scholarly Activity 05.00. Examples of plagiarism are:
 - Submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another.
 - Submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source.

- Incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit.

Adding/Dropping:

The official deadline for adding and dropping courses is as published in the academic calendar and Graduate Bulletin (typically the day before Census Day). However, students are strongly encouraged to meet with their graduate advisor or the Program Coordinator prior to adding/dropping courses. Movement into and out of classes after the 4th class day requires approval of the Program Director. Students can drop until mid-semester without a WP or WF. Drops after mid-semester require approval of the Dean. Each student is responsible for their own enrollment status with the university.

Disability Accommodations:

UTHSCT abides by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act, which mandate reasonable accommodations be provided for students with documented disabilities. If you have a disability and may require some type of instructional and/or examination accommodations, please contact me early in the semester so that I can provide or facilitate provision of accommodations you may need. If you have not already done so, you will need to register with the Student Services Office (located on the UT Tyler Campus). You may call 903-566-7079 for more information.

Note: The Instructor retains the right to change this syllabus.
